

An aerial photograph of a small, newly built village in a dry, hilly landscape. The buildings are white with flat roofs and some have green or yellow accents. A church with a bell tower is visible in the center. The surrounding area is arid with sparse vegetation and distant mountains under a clear sky.

*Los pueblos de colonización en Almería
Medio siglo después*

Miguel Centellas Soler

Colegio de Arquitectos de Almería